

Appeal Form for Nonseparable Academic Integrity Cases

Under the Academic Integrity Policy, you have the right to appeal the finding and sanction in your disciplinary case. You have ten (10) working days from the date of the letter confirming your sanction to file an appeal. If you fail to submit an appeal by the deadline, your sanction will go into effect immediately. The complaint party has the right to review your appeal statement and submit comments. You may appeal the finding, the sanction or both.

You may file an appeal in the following circumstances:

- Your sanction is grossly disproportionate to the offense;
- You have discovered new and significant evidence unavailable to you (being properly diligent) at the time of the original proceeding;
- There were procedural errors or errors in the interpretation of University regulations so significant as to effectively deny you the benefit of a fair disciplinary process;
- The finding of the instructor or AIF was unsupported by the evidence.

The Campus Appeals Committee (CAC) will consider your appeal based solely upon the above criteria. Your appeal will be decided on the basis of your written statement, the case file, and any statements submitted by the complaint party. An appeal is not a new hearing. The committee will not meet with you or the complaint party or re-hear your case.

Your appeal will be heard by the appeals committee at your regional campus. The CAC will consist of two students, one faculty member, and a non-voting Staff Investigator. You will be notified by email of the composition of the CAC and the date of the committee meeting.

If you appeal the finding, the CAC may:

- Affirm the finding; or
- Dismiss the finding.

If you appeal the sanction, the committee may:

- Affirm the sanction; or
- Impose a new sanction.

You and the complaint party will be notified by email of the outcome of your appeal. The committee's decision is final.

You retain your student status until the final disposition of your case. You may continue to attend classes, take exams and quizzes, and complete assignments as usual. If a course grade must be issued before the appeal process is complete, you should receive a TZ grade.
